Always Smiling...

Amelia is a very special little Sunshine Coast girl who has Cystic Fibrosis (CF) – the most common genetic condition affecting Australian children.

Amelia is cared for by the Cystic Fibrosis Team at the Mater Children's Hospital where she requires regular hospital visits to help her maintain a very active, normal life. "The staff at the Mater Children's are so supportive and generous with their time making all the difference where it counts," said mother Danielle.
